Week of 11/23/09

We're using our BRAINS!

Science: We are learning about gears this week as a part of our simple machines unit.

Spelling: There will be no new spelling words this week because of the short week. We will have our words as usual next week.

Writing: We are starting a writing assignment as a part of our holiday door decoration about our dreams for the upcoming year. We will focus on writing about goals.

Thanks to all of the parents who chaperoned on the field trip. Our next trip will be to the senior center to sing Christmas carols.

Toto's Tip: Be sure to fill out the sheet about parent-teacher conferences. Choose which times would be best for you and I will let you know your time.
